

GMO IN THE LIGHT OF EVOLUTION

Summary

Genetically modified organisms are perceived by many as unnatural man-made creations, which are an inappropriate intervention into the natural order. In this paper I try to show that had genes not jumped and recombined, we would not be here.